AEROMEXICO AND DELTA WILL CONNECT MEXICO CITY WITH NASHVILLE, NEW ORLEANS AND SAN JUAN, AND ADD A SECOND DAILY FLIGHT TO AUSTIN

- The new routes will begin operations in June 2027, with four weekly frequencies each.
- In addition, there will be a new second daily frequency between Mexico City and Austin, Texas.

Mexico City, November 09, 2026.- The Aeromexico–Delta partnership continues to expand connectivity between the United States and Mexico with the launch of three new nonstop routes from Mexico City (MEX) to Nashville, Tennessee (BNA); New Orleans, Louisiana (MSY), and San Juan, Puerto Rico (SJU); and a second daily frequency to Austin, Texas (AUS) starting June 2027.

Aeromexico will operate each new route four times a week, with all three U.S. destinations gaining their only nonstop flight from Mexico City. As a result, the Aeromexico-Delta alliance will grow its Mexico City network to 30 destinations in the United States, providing customers with more connectivity options between the two countries under their Joint Cooperation Agreement (JCA).

Giancarlo Mulinelli, Senior Vice President of Global Sales at Aeromexico, said: "The addition of Nashville, New Orleans and San Juan to our network will allow us to provide more connectivity options, bringing our customers closer to destinations known for their unique identity and remarkable attractions." He added: "Together with Delta, we continue to open markets and create more opportunities that strengthen tourism and ties between Mexico and the United States."

The services will operate as follows:

Mexico City – Nashville

Service begins June 13 from Mexico City and June 14 from Nashville.

ROUTE	DEPARTURE	ARRIVAL	DAYS OF WEEK
MEXICO CITY – NASHVILLE	15:15 h	20:00 h	Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Sunday
NASHVILLE – MEXICO CITY	09:30 h	12:05 h	Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday

Mexico City – New Orleans

Service begins June 17.

ROUTE	DEPARTURE	ARRIVAL	DAYS OF WEEK
MEXICO CITY – NEW ORLEANS	09:40 h	13:30 h	Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday
NEW ORLEANS – MEXICO CITY	15:00 h	16:50 h	Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday

Mexico City – San Juan

Service begins June 24 from Mexico City and June 25 from San Juan.

ROUTE	DEPARTURE	ARRIVAL	OPERATIONAL DAYS
MEXICO CITY – SAN JUAN	11:55 h	19:00 h	Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday
SAN JUAN – MEXICO CITY	13:00 h	16:15 h	Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday

In addition to these new routes, starting June 3, Aeromexico will have a second daily frequency between Mexico City and Austin, giving customers more choice of departure times to and from one of the alliance's key Texas markets. Together with Dallas/Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio, Aeromexico will serve Texas from Mexico City six times a day.

Alex Antilla, Delta's VP for Latin America, said: "Delta has grown steadily in Austin, and today we operate more than 60 peak-day departures to nearly 30 destinations. Aeromexico's second daily flight from Mexico City builds on that growth. Under our Joint Cooperation Agreement, Aeromexico customers will have more flight times to choose from and an easier connection onward from Austin across the Delta network."

New Frequency: Mexico City – Austin

Service begins June 3 from Mexico City and June 4 from Austin.

ROUTE	DEPARTURE	ARRIVAL
MEXICO CITY – AUSTIN	16:35 h	20:10 h
AUSTIN – MEXICO CITY	08:30 h	10:00 h

Aeromexico will operate service to Nashville and New Orleans with Embraer 190 aircraft featuring 99 seats, including 11 in Premier Class. Flights to San Juan and Austin will be operated with Boeing 737 MAX 8 aircraft featuring 166 seats, including 16 in Premier Class. Both aircraft offer complimentary free onboard messaging snacks, and beverages.

Each new route will offer customers unique experiences across the United States.

Nashville will offer travelers from Mexico direct access to one of the United States' most dynamic entertainment destinations. Known worldwide as the home of country music, the city offers a vibrant visitor experience centered around live performances, iconic venues, cultural attractions, and nightlife.

New Orleans stands out for its distinctive cultural heritage, historic architecture, and traditions ranging from jazz to its famous Carnival celebrations. As one of the Gulf Coast's most iconic destinations, the city combines a rich visitor experience with its role as an important commercial and tourism hub for the region.

San Juan will open a new gateway to Puerto Rico and the Caribbean, offering travelers access to renowned beaches, historic landmarks, and a diverse leisure offering. The city is also one of the region's leading cruise hubs, further strengthening its appeal as an international tourism destination.

From these new destinations, travelers will have direct access to Mexico City, as well as Aeromexico's extensive domestic and international network, which includes destinations throughout Mexico, Latin America, and the Caribbean.

The addition of San Juan, Nashville and New Orleans follows the recent announcements of new nonstop routes to Portland, Orange County, and Fort Lauderdale, which will begin operations in January 2027 as part of the Aeromexico–Delta alliance's expansion strategy. Through these efforts, both airlines reinforce their commitment to further strengthening air connectivity between Mexico and the United States.

Tickets are now available for purchase through Aeromexico's and Delta Air Lines' official sales channels and websites.
